YOU'RE INVITED:

The Center for Local Government Community Engagement Workshop

Are you ever frustrated that no matter how many public hearings you hold, newsletters you send, or social media posts you make, the public still doesn't get it? Then this workshop is for you.

Jeffrey Stec, J.D., Executive Director of Citizens for Civic Renewal, will lead a conversation about how simple public engagement strategies can help solve real-world challenges and build public support for your work. We will also explore how traditional PR should complement public engagement, the need for ongoing but simple engagement efforts, and how to inspire your staff to take on this work. With public trust in government waning, this is the time to build a better relationship with your constituents.

Specific topics include:

- Dealing with online trolls
- Educating the public
- Getting ahead of an issue
- Recruiting Community Volunteers
- And more
