

Introduction of Mark Weaver

Mark Weaver is a battle-tested litigator with more than three decades of legal experience. He's a litigation partner at a large Columbus law firm who regularly argues in the Ohio Supreme Court.

He's a part-time felony-level prosecutor who has prosecuted cases in a dozen Ohio counties. He has also presided over thousands of criminal cases as an appointed Magistrate and Acting Judge.

When he was the Deputy Attorney General of Ohio, Mr. Weaver helped managed that agency and dealt with a front page legal issue every week.

Early in his career, he served as Spokesman for the U.S. Department of Justice in Washington, where he briefed the national press corps on high-profile federal litigation.

For years, he taught at The Ohio State University College of Law, and he is now an Adjunct Professor at the School of Government at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

The nationally-respected attorney rating service, Martindale-Hubbell, awarded Mr. Weaver its highest rating of legal excellence. He has also been named in Who's Who in American Law.
